If you are planning on taking DART transit on a snowy day, there are a number of things you might do to prepare for your ride. First, and before heading out, check the Rider Alerts on DartFirstState.com and/or sign up for the DART E-Mail Notices. We list a bunch of other tips here and they include: - Have a transit plan in place, so you know your options for alternate routes, if any - Check the weather before you go out - Leave extra time for your journey, in case of delays (start out early or leave early if you need to get somewhere) - Bundle up for cold weather and wear appropriate footwear so you do not slip - Hit the bathroom before you travel, in case of delays (so important!) - Be aware that narrow city streets and hilly areas may cause bus delays as it is harder to get through - Move to the back of your transit vehicle so others can board. Thanks for riding and making a difference!
